The Park's Opening Monday Next. The Park Theater will enter upon another season of its popular career next Monday matinee, the opening attraction being the new sensational melodrama, "The Police Inspector." This play is considered the strongest dramatic picture of police life on the boards. More startling features of stage realism are to be seen in this play than in most of the latter day melodramas. One scene alone is remarkable for its accurate realism, that of photographing a rogue at police head-quarters. Four trained "blue coats," at a word of command from the inspector, euddenly seize a fractious prisoner, throw him into a chair and before he is aware of it the photographer has swung his camera into place and caught his face. All of this is more real than imaginative, and to make it more realistic the photographer displays his negative to the audience. The play will be presented by a capable company and staged in a most effective man-

The Park will be kept cool and pleasant. The usual daily matinees will be given as in past seasons.

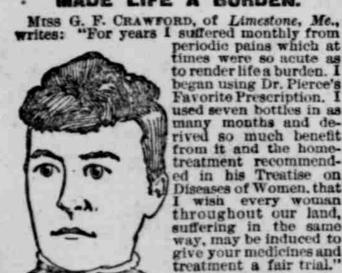

Burglar Left a Trail of Blood. Patrolman Huffbauer, whose wife shot at a burglar on Sunday night, yesterday traced a trail of blood from his home, on Hillside avenue, several squares north. In many places the blood appeared to have poured profusely from the man's wounds. Mrs. Huffbauer fired the contents of a shotgun into the men and heard one of them utter a cry of pain. It is believed that the burglar was badly injured.

The School Board's Purchase. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: I have never heard the action of our School Board so universally condemned in any matter as in its proposed purchase of the Ricketts property. The universal belief is that there is a "nigger somewhere in the wood pile." I am told that the property was offered to the Christian Church about two years ago for $30,000-just onehalf the amount to be paid for it at the present time. There must be some way to stop this job. I like the suggestion of your correspondent to enjoin the commissioners from completing the deal. I have not heard of a single person who does not denounce the secret manner in which the scheme was concocted and the haste with which it was rushed through the board. It savors very that Has Been No Fun for the Arbiter of the Field.

WESTERN LEAGUE SCORES

We Founded the Webb City, Mo., Fellers Into Pulp Yesterday.

Boston Increasing Her Lead in the League-Cincinnati Loses with Cross in the Box.

The Western League looks as if it might lose umpire Sheridan and have to pay the undertaker's bill in the bargain. He barely escaped a second experience with a violent mob yesterday. The following account of the Sunday riot is taken from the Milwaukee Sentinel: Sheridan, once an umprie, but now an alleged umpire, made a decision in the ninth inning yesterday which, while it may not have resulted in giving the game to Grand Rapids, was beyond all doubt radically wrong. Because of the decision he was attacked by spectators after the game and knocked down. An officer came to his rescue and escorted him to a car. Immediately after the game Manager Cushman and President Killilea stated that they would not allow the team to play here again if Sheridan umpired. Whea Sheridan strolled along here for the first time he had plenty of reputation and patrons expected good work from him. But there seems to be something about Milwaukee that has a bad effect on him, for he hasn't umpired a single game here in which he has not, by rank decisions, given the opposing team all the way from one to five runs. There is no doubt that he tries to do the best he can, but it seems that the best he can do is to viciously pounce on Milwaukee whenever the opportunity is presented. When he made the decision that caused all the trouble yesterday the score was tied and the Grand Rapids men were at bat in the ninth. Wright was the first man up and he hit a fly to left field that dropped fully three feet foul. Long made a desperate effort to catch the ball, but when he got his hands on it he was going so fast that he couldn't hold it. Wright continued running and when Long fielded the ball in he was standing on second base. Sheridan called the hit a fair hit. The Milwaukee players made a vigorous chiection waukee players made a vigorous objection, but to no avail. On top of the decision Sharpe had bad luck on a grounder that Caruthers hit, and Carroll topped it all with a home-run drive into the left center corner of the grounds after two strikes had been called on him, and so far as Milwaukee was concerned all was lost. Every spectator who sat where the ball hit by Wright could be followed knew that it was foul by at least three feet. When the game was over the crowd in the left bleach ers rushed on the grounds and followed Sheridan to the clubhouse, hooting as they followed. Sheridan spent about five min-utes in the clubhouse, then started home and passed out of the big gate on Cham-bers street. He had no sooner passed through the gate than one of a crowd of about fifty men congregated on the walk knocked him down and as he fell another man kicked at him. He missed the umpire and landed on the fence, breaking an inch board. An officer happened to be near and ran to Sheridan's assistance and escorted him to a car. Sheridan was not injured by the blow which felled him. A telegram stating the situation and asking that another umpire be sent here was sent to President Johnson last night. Sheridan also made a bad decision in the fifth inning in allowing Carroll to go to first on balls, when he was plainly struck out, and as a result three of the five runs scored by Grand Rapids in that inning came in. Such umpiring greatly injures baseball. Once upon a time a Sheridan was twenty miles away. History should repeat itself as to the distance, but not in the matter of the Think Umpire Sheridan All Right. Umpire Sheridan, who is having such a "rocky" time of it in Milwaukee these days, is regarded by Manager Sharsig and Captain Dalrymple as the best man on the Western League staff. He has never officlated in this city, but the Indianapolis team has caught him on the trips, and the players all say they get a fair deal from him. Sheridan is probably not a home umpire, hence the Milwaukee trouble.

Sheridan Nearly Mobbed Again. MILWAUKEE, July 30.-Milwaukee and Grand Rapids played a tie game to-day. The game was called on account of darkness, and umpire Sheridan narrowly escaped another mobbing. Score:

JOCKEY CLUB STEWARDS LAY DOWN THE LAW TO ALL BOOKMAKERS.

All Further Entries from W. C. Daly to Be Refused-Running Races at Saratoga and Brighton.

NEW YORK, July 30 .- The stewards of the Jockey Club have decided that all bookmakers shall hereafter, on demand of the stewards of any meeting, immediately surrender their betting sheets to them. Any failure to comply with this order will subject the person so offending to the penalties as presented in Rule 164, part 25, of the rules of racing.

The stewards of the Jockey Club having fully investigated the charges preferred by the stewards of the Brighton Beach Racing Association in respect to the running of the mare Lizzie, owned by W. C. Daly, on July 23, have directed all associations racing under the rules of the Jockey Club to refuse all future entries made by Daly.

The Business Man's Statement. LAFAYETTE, Ind., May 2, 1894. Lyon Medicine Co., Indianapolis, Ind.:

Gentlemen-It is with pleasure that I can conscientiously say a good word for Lyon's Seven Wonders. For more than a year I was troubled with Indigestion and Stomach Disorders. Various remedies which I tried gave me no relief, until one day last summer I was told by a brother drummer of the virtues of "Lyon's Seven Wonders." I concluded to try it, and am happy to say one box, costing only $1, entirely cured me. To those who suffer as I did I would strongly advise them to use "Lyon's Seven Wonders." Yours truly, JOHN R. SPENCER, State Agent Royal Baking Powder Co.

at this place to-morrow, and arrangements are perfected for one of the most interesting meetings ever held here. This is the opening meeting of the Eastern Indiana

Circuit, and this has induced the attendance of some of the best horses in this part of the country. The exhibits for all classes are coming rapidly, and every show will be a good one. Special interest centers in the speed ring, and some big purses have been hung up. The track is in splendid condition. Horsemen say it is very fast, and it is predicted that the track record will be lowered to 2:15, if not better. While

"working out," last week, several horses not entered in the free-for-all pace turned the track in less than 2:15. Some of the horses already entered for the races are

LONDON, July 30 .- The entries for the Derby of 1896 show that Americans have decided to make another attempt to capture this historical event. The Lorillard stable has two entries and the Keene stable has five entries, of which two were bred in America. In addition, Foxhall

Keene has two entries, August Belmont has three entries and Col. O. H. Payne has two horses entered. Both Messrs, Belmont and Payne have entered sons of Iroquois. The total number of entries is 295, including seven from the Duke of Westminster's stables and three each from the stables of the Duke of Devonshire, the Duke of Hamilton, Lord Rosebery, the Prince of Wales and Hugh McCalmont.

Lord Dunraven has one entered for the refinement and ample means. The home is located in one of the best residence districts of the city, and, with one or possibly two exceptions, none is more 'elaborate in its appointments than that of the ex-dictator. But it is when the visitor has passed the outer door that the real luxury of the Debs domicile is realized. A neat servant girl answers the ring and the caller is ushered into a vestibule that is exceptionally correct in its furnishings. It is said in Terre Haute that the Debs home is more elegantly furnished than that of any other in the city. Whether this be true or not, it is a fact that al-most every luxury that good taste can suggest, backed by ability to procure, is not unknown in the union president's nest. New York, second; F. C. The foot sinks noiselessly into thick and costly carpets, the windows are draped with beautiful silk draperies, portleres of rich design in embroidered velvet and slik hang in the doorways, and on the walls rare etchings and costlier paintings relieve the eye. The mirror-set mantels and onyx tables are filled with bronzes and bric-a-brac. Every room in the spacious dwelling is said to be rich in its detail of furnishing. Among the tradesmen who are honored by Mr. Debs's patronage he is spoken of in terms of deepest reverence. His bills, though large, are promptly paid. It is understood that the Debs family will accept nothing for their table but the best the local market can provide, and inas-much as the ex-dictator is willing to pay fancy prices his wishes are carefully re-
